Give your customers more than just the ingredients!

Give your customers more value for money and keep them coming back for more. Get Touch2Cook, technology that has changed the fresh foods landscape forever.

Touch2Cook is a state-of-the-art kiosk with an interactive touch screen that allows your customers to choose their favourite recipes by navigating through a series of user friendly screens that flow logically. The user can choose from a range of more than 400 neatly categorised recipes and either instantly print the recipe or email to a personal email address. How is that for service?

Do you need to market your produce?

Touch2Cook allows you to customise the branding on the kiosk, share your best ideas with a news ticker that runs across the home screen, showcase your special deals for the week and even feature the most suitable recipes. All this with an impressive attraction loop, here is an in-store advertising channel!

Worried about managing the process?

It's easier than scribbling on your specials board!

As the Administrator, you will have access to change the branding, amend the email address used to send recipes, change the featured recipes, modify your list of specials and update the news ticker all through the unique Administrator screen. You will also be able to monitor the connectivity and printer status of the kiosk. All this by navigating through what must be the most user friendly touch system!
